Maribor, the second largest city in Slovenia, is an important university city and the economic, financial, cultural and tourist centre of north-eastern Slovenia.

The capital of Slovenian Styria is located at the crossroads of important European routes (there are only a few kilometres between Maribor and the border with neighbouring Austria) and boasts outstanding natural features: the immediate vicinity of the forested slopes of Pohorje - the easternmost part of the Alps, the sunny winegrowing region that reaches all the way to the oldest vine in the world in the city centre, and the magnificent Drava River that flows through the city.
Maribor is a place of sport, recreation, and relaxation in nature.

The rich natural scenery, either in urban or rural surroundings, offers many opportunities for hiking, biking, adrenaline, and other sports activities. Maribor with its surroundings is a great host for international sporting events - among the most recognizable are the famous Golden Fox Competition, FIS Skiing World Cup for Women, and the European Championships for the most successful Slovenian football club, Football Club Maribor. The city offers all the necessary infrastructure and conditions for conducting sport competitions and training camps for athletes on a quality and cost-competitive level: sports facilities for the implementation of diverse sport activities, accommodation facilities at lower and higher altitudes, UKC Maribor and the Medical Centre of Excellence of the Fédération Internationale de Football Association and fast and easy access between individual locations.

AMU JUSEMENT

Maribor and sport – two inseparable words. Maribor has been a city of sport since the times of legendary multi-Olympic medallist Leon Štukelj. A city of champions. A city where more than half of the population is actively involved in sports. No wonder this is one of the main strategic directions of city development. Its unique location, where the Pohorje hills almost touch the city centre, gives Maribor tremendous potential, giving the city an identity that is hard to imagine without sport.
